Please see Additional Notes. All performance and holdings data as at 30-Sep-24. Past performance does not guarantee future results, which may vary. The value of investments and the income derived from investments will fluctuate and can go down as well as up. A loss of capital may occur. The distribution share classes aim to pay dividend on a monthly basis. However, the dividend rate is not guaranteed. The Portfolio may pay dividends out of and / or effectively out of its capital.

⁽¹⁾ For more detailed information on fees and charges, please refer to the Hong Kong offering documents including the Product Key Facts Statement (KFS).

⁽²⁾ Portfolio holdings may not represent current, future investments or all of the portfolio's holdings. Future portfolio holdings may not be profitable. ⁽³⁾ Dividend history for Base Shares (Gross MDist) only. Annualised Dividend Yield = Dividend per share / NAV as of Record Date x 12. The annualised dividend yield is calculated based on the latest dividend distribution with dividend reinvested, and may be higher or lower than the actual annual dividend yield. Positive distribution yield does not imply positive return. The share classes mentioned herein seek to distribute income gross of management fees and operating expenses and therefore ongoing charges are effectively deducted from capital. You should be aware that this may result in an erosion of capital and may reduce future capital growth. Investors should be aware that, where ongoing charges are deducted from capital, this may have tax implications for an investor where income and capital gains are subject to different treatment and personal tax rates. The fund / the investment manager may at its discretion pay dividend out of the capital of the fund, or out of gross income while charging/ paying all or part of the fund's fees and expenses to/out of the capital of the fund, resulting in an increase in distributable income for the payment of dividends by the fund and therefore, the fund may effectively pay dividend out of capital. Payment of dividends out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Any distributions involving payment of dividends out of the fund's capital or payment of dividends effectively out of the fund's capital (as the case may be) may result in an immediate reduction of the net asset value per share/unit. Distribution of dividends (if any) is not applicable to all share classes and is not guaranteed, and is subject to the sole and absolute discretion of Management Company. Dividend yield is not indicative of your investment's return. Net Distributable Income means the net investment income (i.e. dividend income and interest income net of fees and expenses) attributable to the relevant share class and may also include the net realized gains (if any) based on unaudited management accounts. Net Distributable Income which is not declared and paid as dividends in a period of a financial year can be carried forward as net distributable income for the next period(s) within the same financial year. Net Distributable Income that has been accrued as at the end of a financial year and is declared and paid as dividends at the next distribution date immediately after that financial year end could be treated as Net Distributable Income in respect of that financial year. Net Distributable Income which has been accrued as at the end of a financial year but is not declared and paid as dividends at the next distribution date immediately after that financial year end should be included as "capital" for the next financial year. ⁽⁴⁾ The Portfolio as well as Base Shares (Acc.) was launched on August 13, 2020. No calendar year performance was shown for the years prior to 2020 because there was insufficient data in those years to provide performance. ⁽⁵⁾ Reference Benchmark (BM): ICE BofA Asian Dollar HY Corp Sector & Issuer Const Index (USD, Total Return Gross). Effective July 1, 2022, Reference Benchmark returns hereby stated include a transaction cost component. Therefore, investors should seek their own tax advice before investing in such classes.

Goldman Sachs Asia High Yield Bond Portfolio

Glossary

- Duration of the Portfolio – Measure of the sensitivity of the price of a bond or portfolio to a change in interest rates paid. The larger the number (positive or negative), the greater the change in price for given changes in interest rates. When duration is positive a rise in interest rates results in a fall in price while for a negative duration a rise in interest rates results in a rise in price.
- Historical Volatility of Portfolio – Illustrates the dispersion of the fund's realized monthly returns around the average monthly return, indicating how volatile the fund's return is over time. The higher the number the more volatile the fund's returns.
- Net Asset Value – Represents the net assets of the fund (ex-dividend) divided by the total number of shares issued by the fund.
- Yield to Worst – The interest rate that makes the present value of a bond's cash flows equal to the bond's price or initial investment, calculated by making worst-case scenario assumptions (excluding issuer default) on the bond by calculating the returns that would be received if provisions, including prepayment, call, put, and sinking fund, are used by the issuer. The YTW on derivatives, Treasury futures, and interest rate swaps incorporate the impact of current funding rates (due to a change in data source, funding rates on Treasury futures were not incorporated on the YTW calculation from approximately early 2020 through 9-Nov-2022. Since November 9, 2022, funding rates on Treasury futures have been incorporated). On a portfolio level, the YTW is a characteristic of the portfolio based on its holdings as of a particular date and is considered a long-term bond yield expressed as an annualized rate of return, assuming the portfolio securities are called with the lowest yield after running to each potential call date. The YTW does not represent the performance yield for a portfolio and may increase or decrease depending on the present value of a bond's market price as well as the number and size of payments remaining.

Past performance does not guarantee future results, which may vary.

(a) We identify two broad categories of funds to help investors think about how to construct their overall investment portfolio. We describe the following as “Core”: (A) Equity funds with a global investment remit or those mainly focused on US and European markets, given the size and transparency of these markets. (B) Fixed income funds with a global investment remit or those mainly focused on US, European and UK markets and invest predominantly in investment grade debt, including government. (C) Multi asset funds with a multi asset benchmark. All other funds we describe as “Complements”. Both Core and Complement funds can vary in risk level and those terms are not meant to indicate the risk level of the funds. There is no guarantee that these objectives will be met.

For regionally focused investment portfolios we understand that the categorisation may be different from the perspective of different investors. Consult your financial adviser before investing to help determine if an investment in this fund and the amount of the investment would be suitable.
