Goldman Sachs Funds II plc Investment Adviser's Report For the Period Ended 30 June 2024

Dear Shareholders:

Enclosed is the report for the period ended 30 June 2024.

A. Market Review¹

The MSCI China A Onshore Index returned (3.26)% during the six-month period ended 30 June 2024.

Chinese equities have remained soft for the past three years, underperforming broader emerging markets as the multi-year downturn in the property market and weak demand recovery in the wake of COVID has dampened spirits and acted as the primary challenge to flows and allocations towards China globally. Policy measures in China, touted to be the much-needed foundation for recovery, have failed to reassure investors thus far of a quick exit from the current downturn. At the time of writing, China continues to contend with weak domestic consumption demand, ongoing property market concerns, policies that have fallen short of investor expectations, and escalating geopolitical tensions.

Turning to returns, markets have exhibited significant dispersion on a month-to-month basis and, in most cases, disparate from underlying fundamentals indicating the continued sentiment driven direction of broader Chinese equities. After correcting significantly in January 2024, markets enjoyed a stellar comeback in February, driven by an uptick in policy announcements and green shoots in consumption data during the holiday period. However, A-Share Equities lost steam going into May to close year-to-date returns in negative territory. In contrast, Hong Kong markets posted a low single-digit return, partially on the lower base of valuations. Meanwhile, policymakers continued to accelerate easing measures across all four quadrants: Monetary (Reiteration of supportive stance, rate cuts), Fiscal (ultra long-term central government bond issuance and Pledged Supplementary Lending [PLS] funding); Property (city-specific easing measures, easing of mortgage requirements, $42 billion in cheap funding to help stare owned enterprises (SOE) sell unsold inventory, social housing, urban village redevelopment), and Consumption & Industry (application trade in, extension of electric vehicle (EV) subsidies, three-year plan to strengthen cutting-edge technologies). Macroeconomically, improvements in industrial production, manufacturing, and exports remained bright spots, although inflation and demand dynamics have largely disappointed. Early optimism has also faded in light of ongoing challenges, disappointing second quarter gross domestic product (GDP), and renewed geopolitical risk, especially from the U.S.

B. Performance Review²

The Goldman Sachs China A-Share Equity Portfolio returned (1.42)% (P USD Acc share class, net of fees) for the six -months ended 30 June 2024, versus (3.26)% for the MSCI China A Onshore Index.

Despite macro headwinds, the Portfolio outperformed its benchmark during the reporting period. Stock selection was been the primary driver of this outperformance, with significant contributions from the Information Technology (IT), Materials, and Consumer Discretionary sectors. While the IT sector in China has underperformed the market overall during the reporting period, stock selection within this sector was been the top contributor. We have initiated positions in leading businesses within the artificial intelligence (AI) infrastructure supply chain and consumer electronics' components manufacturing, that proved beneficial. Our exposure in the Materials sector, particularly in gold & copper mining, green aluminum, and specialty chemicals names, along with selective exposures in Consumer Discretionary, also contributed to results. On the other hand, the Industrials sector, where we have built exposure across grid upgrade/automation, lithium-ion batteries, renewable and industrial/auto components, detracted from returns, predominantly on account of stock specific factors in a handful of holdings. Lastly, a combination of our underweight exposure in the Financials sector, especially State-Owned Assets Supervision & Administration Commission of the State Council SOE's, and partly stock specific and segment factors within brokerages dragged performance during the period.

In terms of individual stocks, Zhongji Innolight, one of the leading optical transceiver suppliers in China with over 80% of its revenue from the U.S. hyperscale's market, was the top contributor to relative returns. The company has been an early mover to launch high quality 800G modules and is currently a major supplier in NVIDIA's AI GPU supply chain. The company reported solid first quarter 2024 results, much stronger than the usual seasonality of a weak first quarter, driven by a strong pick-up of 400G and 800G products for data center and AI servers. Management also guided margins to show sequential improvement, as shipment continues to ramp up in upcoming few quarters and as U.S. hyperscale industry players raise their capital expenditure plan for AI servers.

Venustech, a leading internet security solution provider in China and one of the early companies to offer cybersecurity products in China, was the top detractor from relative returns. Its share price declined during the reporting period following the market correction and amid market expectations of a slower demand recovery. With weak macro environment, the corporate spending on IT service is expected to reduce, which has led to weak investor confidence. However, we view the digital transformation to translate into strong data growth and the demand for cybersecurity would remain resilient in the long term.

2. Investment Objectives

The primary objective of the Goldman Sachs China A-Share Equity Portfolio is to achieve long-term capital appreciation through investment in companies established or operating in the People's Republic of China.

3. Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of Preparation of Financial Statements

The Company has applied Financial Reporting Standard 102 ("FRS 102") "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland".

The financial statements are presented in United States Dollars, the Company's functional currency. The Board of Directors considers that this currency most accurately represents the economic effects of the underlying transactions, events and conditions of the Company.

The preparation of the financial statements is in accordance with FRS 102 and Irish Statute comprising the Companies Act 2014 and in accordance with the UCITS Regulations. The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis as the Directors are of the view that the Company can continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future.

The preparation of the financial statements requires the Board of Directors to make certain estimates and assumptions that may affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Refer to the Liabilities section of the Statement of Financial Position and Note 4 for instances where the Board was required to make certain estimates and assumptions to determine fair value. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Accounting standards FRS 102 applied in preparing financial statements giving a true and fair view are those issued by the Financial Reporting Council.

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention as modified by the revaluation of financial assets and financial liabilities held at fair value through profit or loss.

The format and certain wording of the financial statements have been adapted from those contained in the Companies Act 2014 and FRS 102, Section 3 "Financial Statement Presentation" so that, in the opinion of the Directors, they more appropriately reflect the nature of the Company's business as an Investment Company.

In the opinion of the Directors, the financial statements provide the information required by the Companies Act 2014.

3. Accounting Policies (continued)

(b) Investment Transactions, Related Investment Income and Operating Expenses

Investment transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realised gains and losses are based on a Weighted Average Cost method.

Dividend income and dividend expense are recorded on the ex-dividend date and interest income and interest expense are accrued over the life of the investment. Interest income includes accretion of market discount, original issue discounts, amortisation of premiums and effective interest and is recorded into income over the life of the underlying investment. Interest income and dividend income are recognised on a gross basis before withholding tax, if any.

Operating expenses are recognised on an accrual basis.

(c) Transaction Costs

Transaction costs are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income as part of net change in unrealised investment gain/loss and net realised investment gain/loss.

Transaction costs for fixed income investments, forward currency contracts and other derivative contracts, excluding futures contracts, are not separately identifiable. For these investments transaction costs are included in the purchase and sales price and are part of the gross investment performance of the Company.

(d) Financial Investment in Securities and Valuation

Under FRS 102, in accounting for all of its financial instruments, an entity is required to apply either (a) the full requirements of Section 11 "Basic Financial Instruments" and Section 12 "Other Financial Instruments Issues" of FRS 102, (b) the recognition and measurement provisions of International Accounting Standards 39 "Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement" ("IAS 39") as adopted for use in the European Union and the disclosure requirements of Sections 11 and 12, or (c) the recognition and measurement provisions of International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") 9 "Financial Instruments" ("IFRS 9") and the disclosure requirements of Sections 11 and 12. The Company has elected to apply the recognition and measurement provisions of IAS 39 and the disclosure requirements of Sections 11 and 12.

(i) Classification

A financial asset or financial liability at fair value through profit or loss is a financial asset or liability that is classified as held-for-trading or designated at fair value through profit or loss. The following financial investments are classified as held-for-trading: common stock investments.

Financial assets that are not at fair value through profit or loss include accounts receivable.

Financial liabilities that are not at fair value through profit or loss include accounts payable.

(ii) Recognition and Derecognition

The Company recognises financial assets and financial liabilities on the date it becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the investment.

Purchases and sales of financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised using trade date basis accounting. From trade date any gains and losses arising from changes in fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities are recorded in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Financial assets are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the investments have expired or the Company has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership.

(d) Financial Investment in Securities and Valuation (continued)

(iii) Fair Value Measurement Principles

Financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are valued in accordance with IAS 39. Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recorded at their transaction price and then measured at fair value subsequent to initial recognition. Gains and losses arising from changes in the fair value of the 'financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss' categories are presented in the Statement of Comprehensive Income in the financial period in which they arise.

Financial assets classified as receivables are carried at cost less impairment losses, if any. Financial liabilities, other than those at fair value through profit or loss, are measured at amortised cost. Financial liabilities arising from redeemable participating shares issued by the Company are carried at the redemption amount representing the investors' right to a residual amount of the Company's Net Assets Attributable to Holders of Redeemable Participating Shares ("Net Assets").

The fair value of all securities is determined according to the following policies:

(iii 1) Exchange Listed Assets and Liabilities

The fair value of exchange traded financial investments, comprising common stock and corporate bonds, are based upon adjusted quoted market prices at the period end date without any deduction for estimated future transaction costs.

(iii 2) All Securities

If a quoted market price is not available from a third party pricing service or a dealer, or a quotation is believed to be materially inaccurate, the fair value of the investment is determined by using valuation techniques. Valuation techniques include the use of recent market transactions, reference to the current fair value of another investment that is substantially the same, discounted cash flow analyses or any other techniques that provides a reliable estimate of prices obtained in actual market transactions.

Such securities and derivatives shall be valued at their probable realisation value as determined by a Valuer.

The investments have been valued in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles that may require the use of certain estimates and assumptions to determine fair value. Although these estimates and assumptions are based on the best available information, actual results could be materially different from these estimates.

Refer to Note 4 for securities where the Valuer was used to determine fair value.

(iv) Transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy

Transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy are deemed to have occurred at the beginning of the reporting period.

(e) Cash

Cash is valued at amortised cost, which approximates fair value.

(f) Foreign Currency Translation

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated at the foreign currency exchange rate in effect at the date of the transaction. Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into US Dollars at the foreign currency closing exchange rate in effect at the period end date. Refer to Note 15 for further details.

Foreign currency exchange differences arising on translation and realised gains and losses on disposals or settlements of assets and liabilities are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Foreign currency exchange gains or losses relating to investments at fair value through profit or loss, derivative financial investments, and all other foreign currency exchange gains or losses relating to monetary items, including cash, are reflected in the net realised investment loss or net change in unrealised investment loss in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

(g) Expenses

Expenses incurred by the Company that do not specifically relate to an individual Fund or Share Class of the Company are allocated to the Funds based on an allocation basis that depends upon the nature of the charges. Expenses directly attributable to a Fund or Share Class are generally charged to that Fund or Share Class.

(h) Finance Costs

Dividends declared on redeemable participating shares and bank interest expenses are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income as Finance Costs.

(i) Redeemable Participating Shares

All redeemable participating shares issued by the Company provide the investors with the right to redeem for cash at the value proportionate to the investor's share in the Company's Net Assets on the redemption date.

In accordance with FRS 102, Section 22 "Liabilities and Equity", such Shares have been classified as a financial liability at the value of the redemption amount in the Statement of Financial Position. The Company is contractually obliged to redeem shares in accordance with the Prospectus.

4. Valuation determined by the Valuer

The Valuer is appointed by the Management Company. The Valuer also has direct responsibilities to the Board of Directors for certain valuation functions, which are ultimately reflected in the Financial Statements. The Valuer during the period ended 30 June 2024 and year ended 31 December 2023 was Goldman Sachs & Co. LLC and the valuation function was performed by Goldman Sachs Controllers Division ("Controllers").

As at 30 June 2024 and 31 December 2023, there were no assets or liabilities where estimates and assumptions were used to determine fair value.

Securities traded on China exchanges may utilise international equity adjusted prices provided by an independent third party pricing service in order to more accurately reflect the value of securities traded on markets which are closed at the valuation point.

The independent valuation service takes into account multiple factors including, but not limited to, movements in the securities markets, certain depositary receipts, futures contracts and foreign currency exchange rates that have occurred subsequent to the close of the foreign securities exchange.

5. Taxation

Irish Tax

Under current Irish law and practice, the Company qualifies as an investment undertaking as defined in Section 739B of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended. On that basis Irish tax is not chargeable to the Company on its income or capital gains.

The Company will not be liable to Irish tax in respect of its income and gains, other than on the occurrence of a chargeable event. A chargeable event includes any distribution to Shareholders or any encashment, redemption or transfer of Shares or appropriation or cancellation of Shares, or a deemed disposal of Shares every 8 years beginning from the date of the acquisition of those Shares, but does not occur in respect of:

- (a) Shareholders who are neither Irish Resident nor Irish Ordinary Resident for tax purposes at the time of the chargeable event and who have provided the Company with a relevant declaration to that effect, and
- (b) certain exempted Irish tax resident Shareholders who have provided the Company with the necessary signed statutory declarations.

A chargeable event does not include:

- (i) any transaction in relation to Shares held in a recognised clearing system as designated by order of the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland;
- (ii) an exchange by a Shareholder, effected by way of an arm's length bargain where no payment is made to the Shareholder of Shares in the Company for other Shares in the Company;
- (iii) an exchange of Shares arising on a qualified amalgamation or reconstruction of a fund with another fund; or
- (iv) a transfer by a Shareholder of the entitlement to a Share where the transfer is between spouses and former spouses, subject to certain conditions.

In the absence of an appropriate declaration, the Company will be liable for Irish tax on the occurrence of a chargeable event and the Company reserves its right to withhold such taxes from Shareholders. Capital gains, dividends and interest received by the Company may be subject to taxes, including withholding taxes in the countries in which the issuers of investments are located, which may be reflected in the Net Asset Value ("NAV") of the Company. Such taxes may not be recoverable by the Company or its Shareholders.

Chinese Withholding Tax on Dividends and Interest

Dividend withholding tax was deducted at source at the rate of 10% on dividends received during the period.

The currently effective tax rules and regulations stipulate that foreign entities without a permanent establishment in, but earning dividend income from, the People's Republic of China ("PRC"), are subject to withholding tax, subject to benefits under applicable treaties.

According to State Council decree No. 512 and in reference to new tax law effective from 1 January 2008, the tax rate to be applied is 10%. Circular 47, issued by the Chinese State Administration of Taxation ("SAT") on 23 January 2009, also noted that dividend withholding tax is deductible at 10% on stock dividends and cash dividends and that the A-share enterprises making the distribution should be the withholding agents.

Interest withholding tax is also due at 10% on interest and the enterprises making the payment should withhold the tax upon payment or when the payment is due. The Circular, however, did not address retroactivity issues with respect to dividends and interest received prior to 1 January 2008.

5. Taxation (continued)

Chinese Capital Gains Tax

A. Ministry of Finance and SAT announcement 14 November 2014

On 14 November 2014, the Ministry of Finance and SAT jointly issued Caishui [2014] No. 79 ("the Notice") which provides that foreign entities under a QFII or RQFII arrangement without an establishment or place in the PRC will be temporarily exempt from taxation on capital gains derived from the trading of A shares effective from 17 November 2014. The Notice also stated that realised capital gains derived before 17 November 2014 would be subject to tax based on the tax rules and practices prevailing at the time the gains were realised.

The Company has therefore ceased providing for tax on capital gains, both realised and unrealised, made post 17 November 2014.

B. Potential for future tax changes

It should be noted that the tax laws and regulations in PRC, and the interpretation thereof, continue to change and they may be changed in the future with retrospective effect. Investors continue to agree to indemnify the Company (including for professional fees, interest and other costs and expenses) in the event that the Company is assessed for any tax by the PRC authorities that is attributable to periods prior to their redemption date, which was not reflected in the NAV of the Company used to determine the investor's redemption proceeds. This therefore constitutes their relevant portion of such tax.

6. Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss

Under Amendments to FRS 102, Section 34, the Company is required to classify fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities;

Level 2 – Quoted prices in markets that are not active or financial instruments for which significant inputs are observable (including but not limited to quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, foreign exchange rates, volatility and credit spreads), either directly or indirectly. This may include the Valuer's assumptions in determining fair value measurement;

Level 3 – Prices or valuations that require significant unobservable inputs (including the Valuer's assumptions in determining fair value measurement).

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety shall be determined on the basis of the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety. For this purpose, the significance of an input is assessed against the fair value measurement in its entirety.

If a fair value measurement uses observable inputs that require significant adjustment based on unobservable inputs, that measurement is a Level 3 measurement. Assessing the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgement, considering factors specific to the asset or liability.

The minimum authorised share capital of the Company is US$2 represented by two Subscriber Shares of no par value issued for US$1 each.

Each of the redeemable participating shares entitles the Shareholder to participate equally on a pro rata basis in the dividends and net assets of the Fund in respect of which they are issued, save in the case of dividends declared prior to becoming a Shareholder. The Subscriber Shares entitle the Shareholders holding them to attend and vote at all meetings of the Company, but do not entitle the holders to participate in the dividends or net assets of any fund.

Each of the redeemable participating shares (including the Subscriber Shares; the initial share capital of two Shares with no par value, subscribed for US$1 each) entitles the holder to attend and, except in the case of Non-Voting Shares, vote at meetings of the Company and of the Fund.

No class or series of redeemable participating shares confers on the holder thereof any preferential or preemptive rights or any rights to participate in the profits and dividends of any other class or series of redeemable participating shares or any voting rights in relation to matters relating solely to any other class or series of series of redeemable participating shares.

The relevant movements on share capital are shown on the Statement of Changes in Net Assets. The Company invests the proceeds from the issue of shares in appropriate investments while maintaining sufficient liquidity to meet redemptions when necessary.

9. Dilution Adjustment

Dilution Adjustment

On any Dealing Day where there are net subscriptions or net redemptions, a dilution adjustment (sometimes referred to as Swing pricing) may be applied to the NAV per Share in accordance with the Dilution Adjustment policy, as approved by the Directors.

9. Dilution Adjustment (continued)

The determination to apply a dilution adjustment under the policy will consider, but not be limited to, such reasonable factors as the prevailing market conditions and the level of subscriptions or redemptions requested by Shareholders or potential Shareholders in relation to the size of the Company. This adjustment is intended to pass the observable estimated costs of underlying investment activity of the Company to the active Shareholders by adjusting the NAV of the relevant classes of Shares and thus to protect the Company's long-term Shareholders from costs associated with ongoing subscription and redemption activity.

The dilution adjustment may take account of trading spreads on the Company's investments, the value of any duties and charges incurred as a result of trading and may also include an allowance for market impact. The dilution adjustment may change from time to time due to changes in these factors. This is processed as a capital adjustment.

As at 30 June 2024 and 31 December 2023, no dilution adjustment was applied for Goldman Sachs China A-Share Equity Portfolio.

11. Financial Investments and Associated Risks

The Company's investing activities expose it to various types of risks that are associated with the financial investments and markets in which it invests (the "Investment Risks"). These may be both derivative and nonderivative financial investments. The Company's investment portfolio is comprised of common stock investments at period end. The Board has appointed the Management Company to be responsible for, amongst other things; investment management and risk management. The Management Company has delegated certain investment functions to the Investment Adviser. The types of financial risks which the Company is exposed to are market risk, liquidity risk and credit risk.

The Prospectus provides details of these and other types of risk some of which are additional to that information provided in these financial statements. Asset allocation is determined by the Company's Investment Adviser who manages the allocation of assets to achieve the investment objectives as detailed in Note 2. Achievement of the investment objectives involves taking risks.

The Investment Adviser exercises judgement based on analysis, research and risk management techniques when making investment decisions. Divergence from the benchmark and/or the target asset allocation and the composition of the portfolio is monitored in accordance with the Fund's risk management policy.

The risk management policies employed in relation to the Company are outlined below:

(a) Market Risk

The potential for changes in the fair value of the Company's investment portfolio is referred to as market risk.

Commonly used categories of market risk include currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk.

- (i) Currency risks may result from exposures to changes in spot prices, forward prices and volatilities of currency rates.
- (ii) Interest rate risks may result from exposures to changes in the level, slope and curvature of the various yield curves, the volatility of interest rates, mortgage prepayment speeds and credit spreads.
- (iii) Other price risks are the risk that the value of an investment will fluctuate as a result of changes in market prices other than those arising from currency risk or interest rate risk and may result from exposures to changes in the prices and volatilities of individual equities, equity baskets, equity indices and commodities.

The Company's market risk strategy is driven by the Company's investment risk and return objectives.

Market risk is managed through the application of risk budgeting principles. The Investment Adviser determines an appropriate risk target, commonly referred to as Tracking Error, employing a risk budgeting framework.

The AM Risk Management group at Goldman Sachs ("AM Risk") is responsible for overall risk governance structure and establishing appropriate risk management best practices. The risk governance structure includes identifying, measuring, monitoring, escalating and remediating applicable risks. AM Risk uses a number of risk metrics to monitor the risk profile of funds on a regular and ongoing basis. GSAMFSL's risk management function, in association with AM Risk Management team, will seek to ensure that the risk profile of funds remain consistent with applicable risk limits and internal thresholds which are established consistent with the risk profile disclosed to investors.

Adherence with these risk thresholds is monitored on a weekly basis with exceptions promptly notified to the AM Chief Risk Officer and portfolio management teams. All governance exceptions are reported to the Risk Management Oversight Committee ("RMOC") and the AM Risk Working Group. In addition, the GSAMFSL risk management function presents or provides written materials on the risks to the Board no less frequently than semi-annually.

AM Risk has taken the decision to align the shocks used in FRS 102 sensitivities calculations with the regulatory prescribed shocks in Form-PF, as determined by the SEC, for consistency and to streamline reporting. AM Risk will review the shocks periodically and revise as necessary.

11. Financial Investments and Associated Risks (continued)

Details of the Company's investment portfolio at the reporting date are disclosed in the Schedule of Investments. All individual equity investments are disclosed separately.

(i) Currency Risk

The Company may invest in financial investments and enter into transactions denominated in currencies other than its functional currency. Consequently, the Company may be exposed to risks that the exchange rate of its functional currency relative to other foreign currencies may change in a manner that has an adverse effect on the value of that portion of the Company's assets or liabilities denominated in currencies other than the functional currency.

When an investor invests into a share class which is in a different currency to the functional currency of the Company in which it invests, the currency risk of the investor will be different to the currency risk of the Company.

The following tables set forth a sensitivity analysis showing gains and losses that would be associated with changes in the currency markets. This sensitivity analysis is based on a change in one currency versus the functional currency of the fund while holding all other currencies constant. For the Total Portfolio, monetary and non-monetary, the assumption is that all currencies move simultaneously against the base currency of the Company.

Total Portfolio (20.0%) 20.0

The above analysis illustrates gains and losses that are associated with changes in the currency market that are reasonably possible over a one year period and these do not include stress scenarios when market moves and changes in correlations and liquidity may result in larger overall gains or losses.

(ii) Interest Rate Risk

The Company may invest in fixed income securities and interest rate swap contracts. Any change to relevant interest rates for particular securities may result in the Investment Adviser being unable to secure similar returns upon the expiry of contracts or the sale of securities. In addition, changes to prevailing interest rates or change in expectations of future rates may result in an increase or decrease in the value of the securities held. In general, if interest rates rise, the value of fixed income securities will decline. A decline in interest rates will in general, have the opposite effect.

The Company may invest in instruments in desired currencies at fixed, floating and zero rates of interest.

The majority of the financial assets and liabilities are non-interest bearing or have a very short time to maturity.

As a result, the Company is not subject to significant amounts of risk due to fluctuations in the prevailing levels of market interest rates.

(iii) Other Price Risk

Other price risk is the risk that the value of a financial investment will fluctuate as a result of changes in market prices, other than those arising from currency risk or interest rate risk whether caused by factors specific to an individual investment, its issuer or any factor affecting financial investments traded in the market.

As the Company's financial investments are carried at fair value with fair value changes recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income, all changes in market conditions will directly affect Net Assets.

The following table sets forth a sensitivity analysis showing gains and losses that are associated with changes in the equity markets. This sensitivity analysis is based on a change in one industry's collective stock prices while holding all other industries' stock prices constant. For the Total Portfolio, the assumption is that all industries' stock prices decline / rally simultaneously by the same percentage.

The above analysis illustrates gains and losses that are associated with changes in the equity market that are reasonably possible over a one year period. These do not include stress scenarios when market moves and changes in correlations and liquidity may result in larger overall gains or losses. Currency, interest rate and other price risks are managed by the Company's Investment Adviser as part of the integrated market risk management processes described above.

(iv) Limitations of Sensitivity Analysis

Some of the limitations of sensitivity analysis include:

- the analysis is based on historical data and cannot take account of the fact that future market price movements, correlations between markets and levels of market liquidity may bear no relation to historical patterns;
- the analysis is a relative estimate of risk rather than a precise and accurate number;
- the analysis represents a hypothetical outcome and is not intended to be predictive; and

• future market conditions could vary significantly from those experienced in the past.

(b) Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset. Among other things liquidity could be impaired by an inability to access secured and/or unsecured sources of financing, an inability to sell assets or unforeseen outflows of cash or collateral.

This situation may arise due to circumstances outside of the Company's control, such as a general market disruption or an operational problem affecting the Company or third parties.

Also, the ability to sell assets may be impaired if other market participants are seeking to sell similar assets at the same time.

The Company provides for the subscription and redemption of shares and it is therefore exposed to the liquidity risk associated with shareholder redemptions in accordance with the terms in the Prospectus.

The portfolio of the Company is managed to include liquid investments which the Investment Adviser believes are sufficient to meet normal liquidity needs although substantial redemptions of shares in the Company could require the Company to liquidate its investments more rapidly than otherwise desirable in order to raise cash for the redemptions. Changes in the liquidity of the Company's underlying investments once acquired can adversely impact its position in this respect. These factors could adversely affect the value of the shares redeemed and the valuation of the shares that remain outstanding and the liquidity of the Company's remaining assets if more liquid assets have been sold to meet redemptions.

Substantial redemption requests by Shareholders in a concentrated period of time could require the Company to liquidate certain of its investments more rapidly than might otherwise be desirable in order to raise cash to fund the redemptions and achieve a portfolio appropriately reflecting a smaller asset base. Substantial redemption requests may limit the ability of the Investment Adviser to successfully implement the investment program of the Company and could negatively impact the value of the Shares being redeemed and the value of Shares that remain outstanding. If Shareholders or investors in the Company request redemption of a substantial number of Shares in the Company, the Directors may determine to gate the Company and limit future redemptions or otherwise terminate the Company rather than continue it with a significantly smaller asset base. A determination to terminate the Company early may adversely affect the returns of the Company and, in turn, the Shareholders.

The following tables set forth details of the shareholders with holdings greater than 10% of the Company's Net Assets:

30-Jun-2024		31-Dec-2023
Shareholder 1 ¹	20.44%	Shareholder 1 ¹	12.78%
Other Shareholders	79.56%	Other Shareholders	87.22%

As at 30 June 2024 and 31 December 2023, financial liabilities were generally payable within three months of period/year end.

11. Financial Investments and Associated Risks (continued)

(c) Credit Risk

Credit and counterparty risk is the risk that one party to a financial investment will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation.

Procedures have been adopted to reduce credit risk related to its dealings with counterparties. Before transacting with any counterparty, the Investment Adviser or its related parties evaluate both credit-worthiness and reputation by conducting a credit analysis of the party, their business and reputation. The credit risk of approved counterparties is then monitored on an ongoing basis, including periodic reviews of financial statements and interim financial reports as needed.

Debt securities are subject to the risk of issuer's or a guarantor's inability to meet principal and interest payments on its obligations and are subject to price volatility due to factors such as interest rate sensitivity, market perception of the creditworthiness of the issuer, and general market liquidity.

The Company is subject to a number of risks relating to the insolvency, administration, liquidation or other formal protection from creditors ("insolvency") of the Depositary or any Sub-Depositary. These risks include without limitation:

- (i) The loss of all cash held with the Depositary or Sub-Depositary which is not being treated as client money both at the level of the Depositary and any Sub-Depositary ("client money").
- (ii) The loss of all cash which the Depositary or Sub-Depositary has failed to treat as client money in accordance with procedures (if any) agreed with the Company.
- (iii) The loss of some or all of any securities held, which have not been properly segregated and so identified both at the level of the Depositary and any Sub-Depositary or client money held by or with the Depositary or Sub-Depositary.
- (iv) The loss of some or all assets due to the incorrect operation of accounts by the Depositary or Sub-Depositary or due to the process of identifying and transferring the relevant assets and/or client money including any deduction to meet the administrative costs of an insolvency.
- (v) Losses caused by prolonged delays in receiving transfers of balances and regaining control over the relevant assets.

An insolvency could cause severe disruption to the Company's investment activity. In some circumstances, this could cause the Directors to temporarily suspend the calculation of the NAV and dealings in Shares.

At 30 June 2024 and 31 December 2023, the following financial assets were exposed to credit risk: investments in common stock, cash and other receivables. The carrying amounts of financial assets best reflect the maximum credit risk exposure at the reporting date.

The maximum exposure to credit risk as at the reporting date can be analysed as follows:

Counterparties or issuers are either rated investment grade in their own right or if not rated then an entity in the corporate family tree has such a rating and the Credit Risk Management and Advisory department of the Investment Adviser believes there is strong implicit support from the rated entity to the counterparty.
